Give us a goal!

Author : Paul Cookson

After reading this book, I think I should set a goal to myself. This book is interesting. There are many pictures and poems, so I have learnt some rhyming words. For example, thrills-skills, passion-action. I think it is very useful and good for me to write a poem. This book even uses football as a theme to write a poem. It is called "Perfect".

It is about a player who tries to play football in a perfect way. I think it is meaningful. I learnt that I should try to do everything in a perfect way. I will set this as my target. My goal is to study well and play badminton well. I set these two targets as my goal. The school teachers always tell us that we should set a goal for our studies. I think it is right after reading this book. A friend tells me that her goal is to be a veterinarian. It is because she loves animals very much including the dangerous animals. I hope she can become a veterinarian after she grows up. As for myself, my goal is to become a badminton player. I started to learn badminton three years ago. I think badminton is easy to learn. I love it and I want to be a good player. .After reading this book, I learn how to make a clear goal. I think learning from a poem is interesting because it is not a long passage. It will not be boring. So I love reading a poem more than a passage. I admire the writer very much because he can write many poems about goal setting . I think I should pay more effort to my studies so that I can achieve my goal. I hope I can do it !
